UPHOLSTERY: BULK, BULGES AND RAW EDGES

Furniture Design & Woodworking Workshop

June 6 - 17, 2022 | 9AM-5PM

CONCEPT The art of upholstery is visual, tactile and logistical. This workshop presents the tools, techniques and materials used to create and restore upholstered furniture. Students strip a piece to the frame, which reveals how it was constructed. Participants then reverse the process, building the layers back up to recreate the original or modify with new flourishes. Students bring a piece of furniture approved by the instructor. The unique challenges of each piece are used to teach the whole class the many variations of the craft.

SKILL LEVELS Beginner to intermediate

MEDIA Students strip, repair, build up and upholster a chair they bring or find in a thrift store nearby—with the instructor's approval.

FACULTY Tina Ortman has been upholstering furniture for over 26 years. The craft combines her love of furniture design, sewing, restoration and learning. The techniques she finds that solve an element in one piece create the learning opportunity she applies to her next job, making upholstery an ever-expanding skill. She recently expanded her practice to the challenges of applying upholstery to metal frames. sturdystitchingupholstery.com
